SEAL CRAFT

REVOLUTIONIZING THE ICE

Built from the ground up for unpredictable ice conditions, Seal Craft is redefining what's possible in ice transportation. Unlike traditional airboats adapted from watercraft, Seal Craft was engineered specifically for crossing thin ice, pressure ridges, slush, and open water with confidence. Its patent-pending design delivers better control, increased safety, and a smoother ride than traditional aluminum airboats, with far less vibration and much more cushion. Designed to extend your season, Seal Craft allows anglers and outdoorsmen to get on the ice earlier, stay out later, and safely navigate changing conditions that stop other machines in their tracks. Combined with noise-legal operation and unmatched versatility from ice to open water and back again, Seal Craft opens the door to a whole new level of access, safety, and freedom on the ice.
